- 8.8.3. candidates on merit and against objective criteria and with due regard for the benefits of diversity on the board, including gender, social and ethnic backgrounds, and cognitive and personal strengths taking care that appointees have enough time available to devote to the position;
- 8.9. review annually the time required from non-executive directors. Performance evaluation, either formal or informal, should be used to assess whether the non-executive directors are spending enough time to fulfil their duties;
- 8.10. review the number of external appointments held by each director and ensure that any new additional external appointments are approved in advance by the board before being accepted;
- 8.11. ensure that on appointment to the board, non-executive directors receive a formal letter of appointment setting out clearly the expectations in terms of time commitment, committee service and involvement outside board meetings;
- 8.12. for the appointment of a chairman, the committee should prepare a job specification, including the time commitment expected. A proposed chairman's other significant commitments should be disclosed to the board before appointment and any changes to the chairman's commitments should be reported to the board as they arise;
- 8.13. prior to the appointment of a director, the proposed appointee should be required to disclose any other business interests that may result in a conflict of interest and be required to report any future business interests that could result in a conflict of interest. These must be authorised by the board prior to appointment and any future business interests that could result in a conflict of interest must not be undertaken without the prior authorisation of the board;
- 8.14. review results of the board performance evaluation process that relate to the composition of the board, succession planning, its diversity and how effectively members of the board work together to achieve objectives;
- 8.15. work and liaise as necessary with all other board committees ensuring the interaction between committees and the board is reviewed regularly.

The committee shall also make recommendations to the board concerning:

- 8.16. any changes needed to the succession planning process if its periodic assessment indicates the desired outcomes are not being achieved, formulating plans for succession for executive and non-executive directors (in particular for the key roles of the chairman and the chief executive) and senior management based on merit and objective criteria and taking into account the skills, experience, independence, knowledge and diversity needed on the board in the future, the length of service of the board as a whole and the need for its membership to be regularly refreshed;
- 8.17. suitable candidates for the role of senior independent director;
- 8.18. membership of the audit and remuneration committees, in consultation with the chair of those committees;

- 8.19. the reappointment of any non-executive director at the conclusion of their specified term of office having given due regard to their performance and ability to continue to contribute to the board and the company's long-term sustainable success, in the light of the knowledge, skills and experience required and the length of service of the board as a whole and its membership being regularly refreshed;
- 8.20. the re-election by shareholders of any director under the annual re-election provisions of the Code or 'retirement by rotation' provisions in the company's articles of association having due regard to their performance and ability to continue to contribute to the board and the company's long-term sustainable success in the light of the knowledge, skills and experience required and the need for progressive refreshing of the board (particularly in relation to directors being re-elected for a term beyond six years);
- 8.21. setting any limits on the number of external appointments that may be held by executive and non-executive directors;
- 8.22. any matters relating to the continuation in office of any director at any time including the suspension or termination of office of an executive director as an employee of the company subject to the provisions of the law and their service contract;
- 8.23. the appointment of any director to executive or other office;
- 8.24. the diversity of the board and senior management team, including with regard to gender, social and ethnic backgrounds and cognitive and personal strengths.

9. Reporting responsibilities

- 9.1. The committee chair shall report to the board on its proceedings after each meeting on all matters within its duties and responsibilities.
- 9.2. The committee shall make whatever recommendations to the board it deems appropriate on any area within its remit where action or improvement is needed, and adequate time should be made available for board discussion where necessary.
- 9.3. The committee shall produce a report to be included in the company's annual report about its activities, the process used to make appointments, its approach to succession planning and how both support developing a diverse pipeline and explain if external advice or open advertising has not been used. Where an external search agency has been used, it shall be identified in the annual report and a statement made as to whether it has any connection with the company or individual directors.
- 9.4. The report referred to in 9.3 above should:
 - 9.4.1. include a statement of the board's policy on diversity and inclusion, its objectives and linkage to company strategy, any measurable objectives that it has set for implementing the policy, and progress on achieving the objectives and the gender balance of those in senior management and their direct reports; and
 - 9.4.2. describe how the board evaluation has been conducted, identify any external evaluation (together with a statement about any other connection the evaluator has with the Company or any individual director), the nature and extent of any external evaluator's contact with the board and individual directors, the outcomes and actions taken, and its influence on board composition.
